REPORT OF

SUPERINTENDING SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

The following report of the schools in town, for the year ending March 1st, 1883, is respectfully submitted. Reported by districts:

DISTRICT NO. 1.

Summer Term, taught by Miss Hattie L. Goodrich. Although Miss Goodrich is a teacher of some experience she failed in animation. Irregular attendance and tardiness were the result.

Winter Term taught by B. Walker McKeen. Having taught this school several previous terms, and being a live teacher, he made the school interesting. Good progress was made in all studies, the greatest in arithmetic.

DISTRICT NO. 2.

Summer Term taught by Miss Edith Stacy. This school had but few scholars. I found it orderly and it bid fair to be a prosperous term. Sickness of the teacher brought it to a close.

Winter term commenced by Miss Hattie B. Frost. The school house took fire and was so badly damaged it was impossible for the school to continue.

DISTRICT NO. 3.

One term taught by Miss Mary B. Blazo. I did not visit the school but once owing to bad roads. Could not get there at its close. The school appeared well. Miss Blazo is young and without much experience, and I understand did not give entire satisfaction in the district.

DISTRICT NO. 4.

The first and second terms were under the management of Miss Susie W. Rounds. Miss Rounds is a teacher that understands what is required to make a good school. Good progress made.

Winter Term taught by Mrs. Abbie M. D. Blonin. This teacher labored hard for the interest of her scholars, and met with good success.

DISTRICT NO. 5.

Both terms were under the instruction of Miss Ella S. Harriman. A great interest was taken on the part of the teacher in her school. The improvement was excellent.

DISTRICT NO. 6.

Both terms were taught by Jesse F. Shackford. This was Mr. Shackford's first experience in the school-room. I am pleased to say that the school was successfully managed and entire satisfaction given. The improvement was excellent.

DISTRICT NO. 7.

One term taught by Miss M. Abbie Mead. I called at the commencement of the school, and found it progressing nicely and bid fair to be a pleasant term. Miss Mead had had no experience in teaching and, being very young, on some trouble arising left the school.

DISTRICT NO. 8.

Both departments of this school have been under the management of the same teachers for the school year. Miss Ella M. Fogg in the higher department. This announcement would be a sufficient guarantee of the success of the school to those acquainted with the teacher. Miss S. M. Tucker in the Primary department. Miss Tucker is a diligent and judicious teacher, and the district was very fortunate in securing her services for the year. The discipline and improvement was excellent in both departments.

DISTRICT NO. 9.

Both terms taught by Mrs. Etta A. Cole. This school was very small in numbers, also in stature. Progress fair.

DISTRICT NO. 10.

Summer Term taught by Miss Clara A. Brotton. I did not visit the school but once, not being notified of its close. Judging from the appearance of the school at my visit, it would indicate that you had a good school.

Winter Term was under the supervision of Miss A. Kate Ham, who made her first attempt at teaching here, and her success was such as to warrant another trial in the same direction.

DISTRICT NO. 12.

First Term taught by Miss Isabel E. Hamilton. I had no notice that the school was in session until near its close. School appeared orderly. Register not returned. Prudential Committee should bear in mind that every teacher, at the close of his school and at the end of each term thereof, shall make a return of such register or record to the School Committee of the town, who shall give to him a certificate thereof; and no teacher shall receive payment for his services until such certificate is produced and delivered to the Prudential Committee.

General Laws, Chapter 89, Section 6.

DISTRICT NO. 13.

This school was under the supervision of the same teachers during the school year. Miss Jane Cook in the higher department did a thorough work. Miss Abbie M. Cushing was in the Primary department. The result of the year's labor in this school is highly gratifying. Both teachers are deserving of much credit.

DISTRICT NO. 14.

Both Terms taught by Mrs. Abbie M. D. Blonin. Good progress was made.

DISTRICT No. 15.

One Term taught by Miss Mamie E. Mason. This teacher is very ambitious and labored hard for her pupils. If they did not accomplish all that was hoped for it was not her fault. This school was one of the best. Excellent order, thorough and systematic training and good progress characterized the term.

DISTRICT NO. 16.

Summer Term taught by Miss Mary E. French. I did not visit the school but once; was not notified of its close.

Winter Term taught by Freeman C. Stacy. Mr. Stacy is a very able teacher and met with excellent success.

DISTRICT NO. 19.

One Term taught by Miss Annette Davis. This was Miss Davis' first attempt at teaching. The school was small, but a marked improvement was made.

†Primary School.

CONCLUSION.

The schools, as a whole, have been quite as successful and as efficient, perhaps, as could reasonably be expected. True some have failed to reach that degree of proficiency to which I wish all might attain; others, however, more fortunate in teachers and other circumstances, have been model schools.

One of the greatest evils we have to contend with is the multiplicity of text books in the same branch of studies, which increase the number of classes to the detriment of the schools. In several districts four different kinds of arithmetic are in use, also the like number of grammars; one of each ought to be established and the others removed. The teacher has to call four different classes solely because the scholars have different kinds of books on the same subject. If the parents were to visit their schools frequently, during the term, they would see at once the amount of time wasted from this source. The registers show but little interest on the part of the parents in Districts No. 3, 6, 7, 9 and 10, not even a citizen calling on the schools to see what progress the scholars were making and the method of teaching adopted. They also show, in several districts, irregular attendance and tardiness on the part of the scholars. As the common schools are the source from which the greater part receive their education, parents should strive to make common schools what it is in their power to make them, of a higher grade, employ no teachers only those who are amply qualified to instruct, and then let parents co-operate with the teachers and scholars for the general good, that in the future it may be said of us, by our children and our children's children, "they have done what they could."
